Prologue

A sudden yowl came from the cloudclan nursery. Windstorm was having her kits. She breathed heavily as she snapped the branch in her jaws. In her blurry vision, she saw dapplestep licking a kit, and hazelspirit was also doing the same. A small furry body came out of windstorm, as lionscar quickly started to lick it. The new queen muttered: "the brown Tom shall be duskkit, the ginger she-cat will be blossomkit and the ginger Tom will be oakkit" hazelspirit quickly gave her the medicine that she needed, and went back to the medicine cat den.

Hazelspirit woke up in a tall tree, it was the frost tree near the ice path. "Why am I here?" She thought.

Hazelspirit cried at the thought of cloudheart, her apprentice that died from an avalanche while going to find herbs. "I could've saved her." Hazelspirit mewed at the memories of her beloved apprentice.

Suddenly a sleek white starclan cat appeared. "Cloudheart!" Hazelspirit yelped. Cloudheart nodded, "Hello Hazelspirit." She mewed. "So uh why am I here?" The brown she-cat meowed. "There's an important prophecy you need to know. But you can't tell Dawnstar, cause she won't let it go. The leaders change like time of day. A blazing dusk shall proceed the era, as the dawn will pass away." Hazelspirit meowed to the white apprentice: "what does that mean?" "I can't guide you the way through, but one day you'll see the truth." Cloudheart purred before fading away. Hazelspirit woke up in the medicine cat den and saw dapplestep looking at her with a worried expression. "Windstorm says she has a pain in her stomach." "I'm sure it's not much" Hazelspirit sighed.

Hazelspirit padded over to the nursery. Hazelspirit saw windstorm lying on her stomach, Hazelspirit muttered: "It's not much, there's just a little patch of fur that fell, and a scratch on your underbelly." Lionscar proceeded to take 3 kittens to Hazelspirit. "This one's duskkit, this one is blossomkit, and he's oakkit!" Lionscar excitedly screamed out.

"Duskkit huh" Hazelspirit thought.

Chapter one

Duskkit woke up to oakkit and blossomkit's playing. "Hey sleepykit! Come play with us!" Teased oakkit. "I just woke up a bit later, oakkit. I bet mother woke you two up." Meowed duskkit drowsily. "Wakey wakey dusky! It's a very special day!" Purred blossomkit super happily. "Cmon we gotta get to our sister's crush's apprentice ceremony." Laughed oakkit.

"May all cats gather under the sky rock!" Yowled dawnstar. "Welp that's our call!" Purred blossomkit enthusiastically. The three kits ran out and saw blazekit, dapplekit and flowerkit getting licked by their mother. Blazekit went to dawnstar first. "Attention all cats of cloudclan! I know this is a big change, but now all cats can have up to two apprentices, if they have different training, please drop them off at another warrior who is doing that specific lesson. This rule applies to medicine cats too." Meowed dawnstar with a loud, confident voice. "Blazekit. You were always the strongest one of your litter. And I'm taking you as my apprentice." Purred dawnstar, blazekit stared with his amber eyes. "R-really!?" Gasped blazekit with a low voice. "Yes. And I hope starclan agrees. Blazekit, you have reached the age of 6 moons, and it's time for you to leave your kit days behind. I shall name you with the name of blazepaw until you become a warrior!" Meowed dawnstar, touching noses with the golden Tom. "Flowerkit! You were always the most caring of your siblings, and Hazelspirit has decided to take you as her apprentice. Will you?" Mewed the strong leader. "W-well I was always interested in herbs and s-starclan." Muttered the golden she-cat. Hazelspirit walked up to her. "That also means that it's forbidden to have a mate and kits." Meowed the medicine cat softly. "Y-yes!" Purred flowerkit. "Very well then, I name you flowerpaw! You will have Hazelspirit as your mentor." Meowed dawnstar. Dapplestep looked at Hazelspirit, "I hope you don't lose her to starclan." Muttered the queen to herself.

"And last but not least! Dapplekit, you have shown speed and accuracy. So I'm giving you to one of the fastest cats in the clan." Mrrowed dawnstar. "Amberwhisker. You've always been an intelligent and calm cat, always thinking for the clan, please pass down these traits to dapplepaw." The cloudclan leader announced. "Blazepaw! Flowerpaw! Dapplepaw! The clan cheered. "Blazepaw! Aren't you excited to finally be an apprentice?" Meowed blossomkit. "Well you will be soon too." Replied Blazepaw. "I know right! When we become apprentices we can train together, share prey-" Blossomkit said in anticipation. "I'm sorry I need to go talk to duskkit about something." He replied. "O-oh." Gasped the she-kit. "Hey duskkit! I need to talk to you, in private." Meowed Blazepaw. "Hmm? What is it?" Asked duskkit as Blazepaw licked his own paw.

Chapter two

"I'm interested in toms." Muttered Blazepaw. "So? That's all?" Meowed duskkit scratching his leg. "And apparently starclan hates me for that." The golden tom cried. "What? Starclan won't hate you for that stupid reason!" Purred the small kitten. "Well my sisters do." Said Blazepaw dropping his tail on the floor, walking off.
"Wait! Blazepaw!" Duskkit shouted before trailing off back to camp.
"Hey oakkit." Duskkit meowed to his brother. "That Blazepaw should be so happy that his mentor is dawnstar. He's an arrogant and annoying cat if I've ever seen one." Ranted oakkit. Why's everyone hating on him? Duskkit saw flowerpaw and dapplepaw talking to many cats. "What's going on?" The brown Tom muttered to his brother. "Dapplepaw and flowerpaw said that Blazepaw is a traitor who gives prey to other clans, and always tried to kill all of us." Oakkit meowed, his gaze fixing on Blazepaw. "Why would you believe them!?" Duskkit Gasped. "They have evidence!" He purred tail flicking at flowerpaw's scarred cheek. "Attention to all cats of cloudclan!" Dawnstar yowled. "All apprentices shall be going to train! No exceptions." The proud leader flickered her tail in annoyance. She leaped off the sky rock. "Come over Blazepaw." She meowed softly to the small golden tom, and gave a friendly nod to Duskkit.
"Are you still mooning after what you guys called a traitor?" Meowed duskkit to his sister. Blossomkit gave a slight nod and ran from her siblings.
time skip to night
Duskkit crawled to his mother for sleep, and heard his sibling muttering about something.
"Duskkit can't be friends with that traitor! I heard that even starclan dislikes Blazepaw!" Oakkit sneered to his sister.
"And even you still like him, what's wrong with you two!?" Hissed oakkit in anger.
"At least I'm not a flea-brained cat like you." Blossomkit growled back.
"I-I....." said oakkit before running off out camp.
"Oakkit!!!!" Shouted windstorm before running off, her blue eyes full of panic and worry.

"I'm following mother!" Shouted duskkit before rushing out of cloudclan camp at full speed. His green eyes gazing at the path out of camp, what if I get lost? Thought the small brown tom, "Oakkit? Oakkit? Windstorm!?" Shouted duskkit, his small legs feeling a bit sore, and his paw pad was bleeding as there was a thorn in it. His green eyes saw a white she-cat, her pelt gleaming under the moonlight, she fell on the floor, the small brown Tom ran over to investigate, it was a cat, obviously from another clan, standing, duskkit looked down, and saw the she-cat's blue eyes shining, and blood pouring out of her chest, "mother?" Duskkit mewed softly, hoping she wasn't dead yet. "I'm sorry honey, I-i will w-w-watch after you in starclan, I love you....." Purred windstorm weakly, her blue eyes slowly darkening before closing forever. "N-no mother! W-windstorm!?" Cried duskkit loudly, he stood up as tears rolled down his cheeks, he looked off, and saw a silver cat, obviously it was a plan, as the cat smelled a lot like fox dung. But he saw that the killer had something in it's jaws, but duskkit ran back to camp quickly, crying.

Chapter three

It's been two moons since windstorm's death, and oakkit hasn't returned yet. "Well, there should've been three." Dawnstar muttered under her breath. "All cats that can catch their own prey, please come to the sky rock!" Shouted dawnstar, trying to be confident, no one was really happy, everyone knew that two of the cats that should've been here, wasn't. "Duskkit, you have reached 6 moons of life, and at four moons, your mother died. It was a sad thing for every cat." Dawnstar meowed, her tone being a bit sad and grim. Duskkit looked at the nursery, seeing the new queen, bloomflight looking at him, her gaze looking warm, and the new warriors, leafheart, falconwing and squirrelfeather, looked at him with a happy expression, seeming like they were trying to comfort him. "Duskkit, I've seen a lot of potential in you, and I believe that I'm going to mentor you with Blazepaw. By the name of starclan, until you become a warrior, you shall be duskpaw." The cloudclan leader said before touching noses with the new, young apprentice. Blossomkit then stepped forward. "Blossomkit, you've told Hazelspirit that you would become her third apprentice, because you want to heal cats like your mother, is that correct?" Dawnstar meowed softly. Blossomkit nodded nervously as she shuffled her paws. Hazelspirit padded over and touched noses with the ginger she-kit. "I now name you Blossompaw! I hope Hazelspirit will teach you a lot." Dawnstar meowed before the crowd of cats started cheering. "Duskpaw! Duskpaw! Blossompaw! Blossompaw!" All the cats shouted. Suddenly, duskpaw's heart dropped, the two apprentice's dad didn't even come! He stayed in the warrior's den! "Congratulations duskpaw!" Purred Blazepaw, dawnstar jumped down from the sky rock. "Blazepaw, we're going to take you two to look around the territory." The cloudclan leader Meowed.
